ALINE THOMPSON

Mrs. Ruben Boise Thursday at the Hotel Marion.

After luncheon, Mrs. Boise and her guests motored to Mrs. Charles McNary's residence where bridge tables were arranged in rooms glowing with beautiful Christmas blossoms and decorations.

High score honors were awarded to Mrs. Carlton Smith.

Mrs. Boise's guests including the members of the Thursday afternoon club and several additional guests were: Mrs. George Rodgers, Mrs. Geo. L. Rose, Mrs. R. E. Lee Steiner, Mrs. L. P. Griffith, Mrs. Ben Oleson, Mrs. Oswald West, of Portland; Mrs. John McNary, Mrs. George Brown, Mrs. Henry Meyers, Mrs. Fred Stewart, Mrs. William Eldridge, Mrs. Frank Durbin, Mrs. Harry Olinger, Mrs. William Dancy, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Baumgartner and Mrs. Edwin Baker.

Miss Ellen Thielsen left for Vancouver, Washington, this morning, where she will attend the dance to-night at the Barracks.

While in Vancouver, Miss Thielsen will be the house guest of Miss Lillian Conaway.

One of the gayest little dancing parties of the week was that given by Miss Helen Deckebach Wednesday evening to the members of her club and a number of additional guests.

The youth and enthusiasm of this little coterie of younger belles and beaux insures a jolly winter for the club members, who will give a number of charming parties before the season closes.

Miss Elizabeth Hailey, who has been the house guest of Miss Ellen Thielsen, Mrs. Margaret Rodgers for a fortnight, returned to Portland this morning.

New Year's eve a jolly little crowd danced the old year out at the Harry Clays and greeted the new with a delightful crawfish supper at Mr. and Mrs. Asahel Bush.

Circling the board which was centered with handsome art basket of vivid red poinsettias and greens, were: Dr. and Mrs. Harry Clay, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic Thielsen, Mr. and Mrs. William Bargarait, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Plimpton and Miss Aline Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Burnett opened their attractive home Friday evening to their many friends who gathered to celebrate the hosts thirty-sixth anniversary.

This delightful reception is on old-established custom of the Burnett's and for a number of years they have entertained their many friends at these attractive affairs.

The house was a bower of wonderful blossoms and Christmas decorations. The drawing room being effectively arranged with gorgeous fluffy chrysanthemums in the delicate pinks and white.

In the dining room, the table was decked with beautiful fragrant red carnations and smilax.

Presiding alternately at the smorgasbord and teas were Mrs. J. C. Moreland, Mrs. Edward Boas, Mrs. Dwyer and Mrs. Chapman.

Mrs. C. P. Bishop, Mrs. John Sutherland, Mrs. E. M. LaFore, and Mrs. Edward Weller assisted in the rooms.

Mrs. Oswald West and daughter, Miss Helen, who have been the holiday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Oleson, will return to Portland Sunday evening.

A gay little informal dancing party Thursday evening was that given by Mrs. Ernest Hofer, in honor of her son Laurence's birthday.

The house was cheerfully decorated with Christmas and holiday greenery, garlands of holly and mistletoe adorning the dancing rooms.

The guests for this delightful affair were: Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Bishop, Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Hofer, Mr. and Mrs. William Connell Dyer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Spears, Mr. and Mrs. Cur-

Cord favors for the evening were awarded to Miss Edna Howd and Victor Reed.

Mrs. Zedoc Riggs was hostess Wednesday for a delightfully informal Kensington and tea.

Mrs. Riggs' guests included a group of the younger married set who were invited to call and spend the afternoon with Mrs. Clifford Brown, who has been sojourning in the east for several weeks.

The Y. W. C. A. reception and tea this afternoon among the notable events of the week.

During the afternoon a steady stream of matrons called and dozens of men augmented the affair.

Christmas greens and foliage effectively arranged formed the decorative scheme throughout.

The prettily appointed tea table was presided over by Mrs. A. N. Bush, Mrs. R. S. Wallace and Mrs. Kirk.

Mrs. Chauncey Bishop and Mrs. John J. Roberts were in charge of the punch bowl, and were assisted by Miss Rita Steiner, and Miss Margery Marvin.

Assisting in the various rooms were: Mrs. W. O. Aselin, Miss Beatty, Miss Angelina McAlloch, Mr. Mildred Brooks, Mrs. Stella Blackerby, Mrs. John H. Albert, Mrs. J. H. Lewis, Mrs. F. H. Spears, Mrs. G. G. Brown, Miss Ada Chapman, Mrs. Geo. Dunsford, Mrs. H. C. Epley, Miss Nina McNary, Mrs. George Peabody, Mrs. J. O. Goltz, Mrs. C. A. Park, Miss Grace Smith.

This function, which was of vast interest to Salem folk, was the formal opening of the Y. W. C. A.'s attractive new quarters in the both building.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Taiselen have rented their attractive home to Mr. and Mrs. Erwan Griffith for the winter.

For the present the Thielsens will be domiciled in Mrs. Ada Strongs apartments on South Commercial street.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon McGilchrist presided over a prettily appointed dinner Thursday evening in honor of Miss Gertrude Jell, of Eugene.

Lovely feathery pink chrysanthemums decked the table.

Mr. and Mrs. McGilchrist's guests numbered eight.

Mrs. A. N. Bush will open her attractive home to the members of the Woman's club next Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Alice H. Dodd will favor the club with a most interesting and instructive art lecture.

The many beautiful and rare pieces of art in the Bush residence will form a perfect setting for Mrs. Dodd's lecture, which will include many of Mrs. Bush's famous collections, as well as her visit to the wonderful galleries abroad.

Miss Gertrude Buell, of Eugene, was the inspiration for a delightfully attractive five hundred party for which Miss Isabel McGilchrist was hostess on Tuesday afternoon.

Circling the card tables were: Miss Buell, Mrs. James Elton, of Astoria; Mrs. Gordon McGilchrist, Miss Jennie Fry, Miss Barbara Steiner, Miss Hazel Downing, Miss Nancy Shalfe, Miss Marie Churchill, Miss Harriet Bigdon, Miss Irma Botsford, Miss Beryl Holt, Miss Agnes Driscoll, Miss Edith Shaw, the Misses May and Dorothy Stenloff and Miss Margaret Durston.

High score honors for the afternoon were captured by Miss Driscoll.

Mrs. Thomas C. Smith, Jr., and Master Malcolm returned Friday evening from Portland, where they have been the house guests of Mrs. Smith's sister, Mrs. Howard Drake.

A jolly New Year's dance and "500" party was presided over by Mr. and Mrs. Horace Sykes and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph White at the home of the former.

The rooms were effectively decorated in holiday colors and foliage.

Little Miss Janette Sykes greeted the guests at the door and Miss Margaret White presided over the punch bowl.

Those bidden were: Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Hardenbrook, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Bevier, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hickox, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Neugebauer, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Aufreuzer, Mrs. Lottie Doran, Miss Georgia Booth, Miss Lillian Stege, Miss Cora Neugebauer, Miss Martha Swartz, Miss Renska Swartz, Miss Sadie Heith, Mr. Stouckenmeyer, Joe McAllister, Clarence Newberry and Mr. Mohney.

Mrs. Donald Miles and Miss Margaret Miles are in Portland, the guests of friends and relatives.

Mr. Miles joined them for the New Year.

Honoring Miss Helen Cornelius, the talented young violinist from Monmouth, who is the guest of Dr. M. E. Pomeroy, Miss Margaret White was a gracious little hostess Thursday afternoon.

During the afternoon the little people enjoyed games, followed by dainty refreshments.

A color motif of red and green prevailed throughout the rooms with mistletoe and Christmas greenery, forming the decorations.

The little guests present were: Miss Alice McClellan, Miss Letha Wilson, Miss Dorothy Esch, Miss Rita Craggett, Miss Georgia Dewey, Miss Merle Marlock, Otho White, Eddie Hanson, Rex Adolf and Norwood White.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Sutherland were the charming hosts today for an artistically appointed dinner.

The table was aglow with vivid red candles and holly.

Mr. and Mrs. Sutherland's guests numbered four.

George Lewis left Thursday night on an extended trip east.

While east Mr. Lewis will visit in Nova Scotia, Oklahoma, New York, and Texas.

One of the merriest dancing parties of last evening was that given by the members of the Octo club in the Baumgartner hall.

A large gathering of young folk thronged the dance hall, which was bright with holiday colors, enhancing the cheer of the affair.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Giesy entertained, with a watch party last evening at their home on Twenty-fourth street.

The rooms were effectively decorated with bright red crepe paper streamers, large Christmas bells and holly.

Dancing and cards formed a merry evening for those bidden.

At the close of the old year the guests circled a supper table, artistically centered with artificial snow, pine burs, and glistening miniature Christmas trees.

Those invited were: Mr. and Mrs. H. Freedland, Mr. and Mrs. Irwin, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Buchtel, Mr. and Mrs. William Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hendricks, Miss Josephine Kerr, Hilmer Ostreum and D. B. Snyder.

James Young is spending the New Year's holiday in Portland.

METROPOLITAN GRAND OPERA

A brilliant grand opera concert with six international celebrities on the program is booked at the Grand Opera House for January 12. The New York Metropolitan Company is touring these parts on its way home from the Panama-Pacific Exposition, San Francisco, where it closed one of the grandest opera seasons ever known in this country.

The soprano of the company is Florence Hawkins, an American well known to New York, Boston and Chicago opera goers. She scored a triumph last season with "Madama Butterfly."

Miss Hawkins' charming personality combined most favorably with her wonderful voice to make her one of the prime favorites of the New York Metropolitan Company.

Clara Freuler, the Swiss mezzo-soprano, possesses a wonderfully clear and brilliant voice. Miss Freuler creates a sensation where ever she sings and particularly dear has she become to her audiences by her interpretation of the Swiss folk songs, the rendition of which has won triumphs for her.

Molly Byerly Wilson, is the possessor of one of the most remarkable contralto voices. It might be said that Miss Wilson has many voices, so varied are her accomplishments. She is equally at ease in the exquisite Mozart music as in the passionate and dramatic Aida and Bellini, or the goddess-like Brunshilde, while her interpretation of German Lieder is artistic in the extreme. Miss Wilson will sing her dramatic arias in the original operatic costume.

Francis W. Cowles' rendition of the Prologue to "Pagliacci" and many other difficult operatic arias has won for him the distinction of possessing one of the most remarkable baritone voices on the operatic stage today. Mr. Cowles' dramatic impersonations render him one of the most deft and facile of actors.

Skovgaard, the Danish violinist, is well known in this country, having made several tours in the past eleven years. He was a pupil of Joseph Joachim and has played before most of

Margaret Mason Writes of Gotham Fads and Fashions

By Margaret Mason. (Written for the United Press.)

Stuck in her hair, milady fair! A stunning comb elects to wear; It gives her such a killing air, That all who see, with envy stare, Then haste to copy all they dare, 'Till every head a comb doth bear, Quite a la reoster, I declare.

New York, Jan. 1.—The new combs are enough to go to anybody's head, so gorgeous and effective are they.

One shop is offering a barbaric model dubbed Manarin and in the forms of crescents, pagodas and other oriental symbols they are elaborately carved and set with semi-precious stones in vivid hues. These combs are either two, three or four pronged and fit into the new high coiffure most artistically.

Other striking combs of brilliant set in silver, a metal which is sworn not to tarnish, set off midnight or ruby tresses to great advantage. Lucky the maid who has fallen heir to an old Spanish comb for her hair. It's an heirloom to be enthusiastic about, with its spreading fan back of tortoise shell, mellow toned and exquisitely hand carved. The combination of such a comb, thrust at an angle into a high knot of dusky hair is irresistible. Then there are the glistening, high backed combs of jet, the excellent contrast, the lovely hue combs for her of the Viking with the combsers bloom on many a tiny roadside curlicue of the head in Victor, single perfect rose or ringlets dangling in freer air in another revised and garlands of mixed the temples which exist Classic or Castle, (as bound, classic chapel natural green or gold setting embellishments, a parted in the middle 18, now so much in vogue, cisco fair, with its towns, undoubtedly gave penchant for Chinese million tinted or jade-like like the fresh beauty of the hard little they are quite marvelous they jut out their long points at all precarious in a class as a killing fi with the jeweled dagg loves to thrust through hair. the European crowned heads. Skovgaard is introducing to the United States a number of Scandinavian compositions and these promise to be especially interesting from the fact that very little is known of Scandinavian music and that on this occasion they will be played by a Scandinavian. Skovgaard was personally acquainted with Edward Grieg, Norway's greatest composer, and has played most of his compositions with the composer himself.

The pianist of the company is Alice McClung, one of the most powerful of women pianists. She has won an enviable reputation as an interpreter of the Liszt compositions.

Among the opera numbers given by the company are scenes from "La Boheme," "Tales of Hoffman," "Madam Butterfly," and the company also gives a rendition of the famous sextette from the opera "Lucia."

The price of the tickets will be popular and range from 50 cents to $1.00 and will be on sale soon.
